Parking lot USB exercise

Contents	There are employee budgets, information of the new hire like a resume and a new hire letter which is considered internal sensitive information. Personal photos like family photos and dog pictures are considered as personal information. Wedding list slides are also considered as personal information.
Attacker mindset	The internal sensitive information like employee budget and new hire information could be used against other employees. Personal family photos and wedding lists could be used against relatives. The budgets and shift schedule could provide employee information to other businesses but would not provide access to the business.
Risk analysis	It is considered a managerial control. Antivirus scan can be implemented or technical control like disabling Autoplay on company PCs to prevent executing malicious code.